SCOUT ANNIVERSARY

Once again the interest of the public focuses on the Boy Scouts of America who are celebrating with appropriate ceremonies their twenty-sixth anniversary. The Scout oath, to which over a million Scouts and Scout leaders re-dedicated themselves all over the country last evening, in one which is nobly exemplified in the life of the Great American. It runs as follows:

"On My Honor I will do my best:
1-To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout laws.
2-To help other people at all times;
3-To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

It is well that those who grew to maturity before there was a Scout movement, should pause and ponder at this time, how rich a contribution the movement has made, not only to our youth but to the nation itself. We can none of us cherish a better hope for the America of tomorrow than that it should rest in hands of such men as are morally straight, intensely patriotic already active as "participating citizens" in all sorts of community and national service, but bound by no narrow bonds of sectionalism, race or doctrine. "A Scout is a friend to all and a brother to every other Scout."

The Scout's law is based on a fine social code of conduct and attitude enjoins upon him in a positive way, honor, courage, loyalty, responsibility, kindness and helpfulness to all, reverence to God and service to man. And these valuable traits are inculcated in him, not by abstract preachments but by real life experience, in camp and on hikes, at Troop meetings or jamborees, playing the Scout Game, wherever he is, "Learning by Doing."

Calvin Coolidge once said, "If every boy in the United States between the ages of 12 and 17 could be placed under the wholesome influence of the Scout program and should live up to the Scout oath and law, we would hear fewer pessimistic words as to the future of the nation."

Weather unleashed its cruellest blows Saturday night against Mid-Western states suffering bitterly under the lash of 19 days of record breaking cold.

A raging northwest blizzard, borne on a 40-mile gale, whipped across state after state, stalling traffic, blocking the coal mines, marooning isolated towns and intensifying fuel and food shortages to the emergency point in many sections.

Deaths attributed to the cold since January 21 have risen to 202.

This Morning

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—UP—The Berkeley police department, famed for its scientific method of apprehending criminals, was minus one police radio car tonight.

All the instruments used in the detection of crime and the clever minds of the department were concentrating on one thing—find the man who had the effrontery to steal a police car from under the nose of a police officer, and in the downtown section of the city.

Officer E. J. Mann parked the car and went to a call box. He wasn't gone more than a minute, he claims, and when he came back the car was missing.

Besides the regular short wave police set, the car contained a sawed-off shot gun, and a revolver.

Forces Bandit
Into Surrender

BOZEMAN, Mont., Feb. 8.—UP—Rudolph Holley, 26, suspected Wisconsin slayer who kidnaped two persons, surrendered today at Deaconess Hospital.

His feet badly frozen, the fugitive sought medical attention after eluding Bozeman officials all night in temperatures ranging from 30 to 35 degrees below zero.

Holley came to Bozeman late Friday night from Livingston, Mont., where he had commandeered a car and forced its owner to drive him here.

The motorist was forced to let Holley out and then returned to Livingston where he informed officials of his abduction.

Local officials immediately began the hunt which ended today when Holley yielded to the extreme cold. Holley, wanted in Antioch, Wis., in connection with the slaying of a tavernkeeper, kidnaped Deputy Sheriff P. H. Slagle Thursday when the latter attempted to arrest him in Basin, Wyo.

Nancy Lee Is Regular Eater

OAKLAND, Feb. 8.—Nancy Lee started eating between meals today.

But the world's thinnest human is taking for her casual "snacks" a percent lactose solution—rather than the peanut butter sandwiches and oranges she probably will be eating a few years hence.

This fact was announced today in an official bulletin issued from Peralta Hospital, where Nancy, all 15 ounces of her—continues her fight through the first critical period of her life.

"There are no new developments in Baby Vogt's condition," the bulletin said. "Her food has been increased to 5 c.c. (about 75 drops) or one and one-quarter teaspoons every hour and a half, and consists of whole mother's milk which she takes very well."

"She also takes some lactose solution at times between her regular feedings. Her general condition is unchanged."

"Square Deal"
The Slogan
Of Candidate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—UP—Senator William E. Borah, Republican, Idaho, adopted the "square deal" as a Presidential campaign slogan tonight in a challenge to his Republican critics to express openly their choice between his policies and those of former President Hoover.

ANSWERS FESS

In a formal statement directed at former Senator Simeon D. Fess, Republican, Ohio, who threatened to "walk out" if Borah became the Republican Presidential nominee, Borah attacked the "favorite son" plan of selecting candidates and declared voters should not be denied a "fair chance to have a part in selecting" a nominee.

Meanwhile, Oregon Republican leaders predicted success for Borah if he decides to enter the state primaries on May 15.

"He will have no difficulty defeating Governor Alf Landon of Kansas or any one else," said Senator Frederick Steiwer, Republican, Oregon.

Thus far, Borah has not gone beyond a decision to file his candidacy in Ohio, but he is giving serious thought to a primary contest in Illinois on April 14 and to the Oregon race.

Borah said tonight that the Ohio law "gives the people of the state a voice in selecting the candidate for the presidency."

"The 'favorite son' plan, he declared, 'is a scheme to get around this law.'"

Pioneer Of Auto

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—UP—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in Federal Court today on behalf of W. C. Durant, automobile pioneer and stock market operator, whose fortune once was estimated at many millions.

The only assets listed were his clothes against liabilities of close to $1,000,000.

Durant was a founder and one-time president of the great General Motors corporation and pioneered in automotive transportation as head of the Durant Automobile Company.

He was a celebrated stock market figure in the boom days wrestling a huge fortune from his speculations but he was wiped out spectacularly in the crash of 1929.

Since then he had been trying to recoup his finances, friends said.

Ex-Vice President, Charles Curtis, Dead

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—UP—Charles Curtis, 76, one-time jockey and former Vice-President of the United States, who traced his lineage to the Indian nobility of the western prairies, died at his home here today.

Death was due to a heart attack. Curtis will be buried Tuesday in Topeka, Kansas, within a few miles of his log cabin birth place on the north bank of the Kaw river.

The nation knew Curtis best as the vice-president of 1929-33, a strict observer of the formalities and dignities of high office, and as the country's "number 1 diner-out" in his capacity as the social foil for the President.

But the capital recalled Curtis tonight as a master politician who knew which wires to pull, and when and whose relaxation was found most often in a hand of poker or at the race track.

Curtis was alone except for servants when he died. He had been suffering from a cold but was up and around the house this morning under a physician's attention to and dignities of high office, and remain indoors.

Near Groom Facing Drunk Driving Count

Celebrating his prospective marriage in Reno, Nevada, led to serious results for John Joseph Rogers, 27, of San Leandro, who faces prosecution on a felony charge as a result of an automobile crash late last night which injured three people on the Martinez highway one mile north of Pacheco.

Rogers will be charged with drunken driving as the climax of the accident in which his fiancée, Miss Margaret O'Neill of Oakland, who tried to take responsibility for the accident, was injured. The accident occurred when Johnson's car crashed into a Model T Ford driven by C. J. Summers of South Gate, Mr. Diablo, who with his wife and two children were traveling toward Pacheco.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Summers, Miss O'Neill, and Miss Ella LaSura, who was riding in Rogers' car, were treated in a Martinez hospital. Summers and his wife suffered cuts and abrasions. Miss O'Neill cuts and bruises, and Miss LaSura a broken collar bone. The two Summers children were uninjured.

According to reports from the sheriff's office at Martinez, Miss Pittsburg, and Johanna Marie O'Neill said she was driving the car, Agosto, 22, of Crockett.

MIDGETS SCORE THEIR SEVENTH STRAIGHT WIN

San Pablo Boys Club basketball team, of which each player tips the scales at 55 pounds, continued its winning ways last night by downing the Nichols Park quint, a team of equal avoirdupois, by a score of 13-1 at Longfellow gymnasium.

It was the seventh straight win for the flyweights who are going out for this same Friday night when they play St. Mary's high school of Oakland. The only teams which the San Pablo mites demand when they play the high school team is that no player shall weigh more than the 55 pound limit.

In last night's game Hobart, San Pablo forward, scored six points to share the honors in a game where points were conspicuous by their absence, but Morgan of Nichols Park also covered himself with glory by scoring three-fourths of the losers' four points.

Cold Kills One In Relief Trek

CRISFIELD, Md., Feb. 8.—A desperate battle to penetrate a blinding blizzard and take food to marooned islanders over treacherous Chesapeake Bay ice, left a State policeman dead and five persons recovering today from exhaustion and exposure.

The six were members of a group of 15 who set out late yesterday from Crisfield pushing a ton of food on sleds. They braved a bitter gale lashing their faces with swirling snow flakes in an attempt to restock the larders of Tangier and Smith Islands, isolated islands out in the ice-choked bay.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant.

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Stops fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and thus contracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days, and how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it whistles your breath. Listerine Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

'CASEY' ANNUAL GAME REACTION BEING SOUGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—UP—Questionnaires were dispatched today by the executive committee of the Knights of Columbus to many Catholic universities and colleges asking for opinions regarding the proposed "Casey" sponsored Catholic school championship football game to be played in Kezar stadium here next winter.

The "Caseys," who in the past have provided fans with a game between west coast all-stars and a professional team, believe that a game, designed along the same lines as the Rose Bowl event, carrying the title of National Catholic school champion to the winner, would be attractive to fans and players alike.

It is with this end in view that they today sent out inquiries to a number of Catholic schools asking their reaction and for suggestions concerning possible dates, appropriate permanent and year to year trophies, and other details of the game.

If plans for the game go through, the executive committee said, the profits from the gate receipts will be put to charitable use, as in former years.

Arms Increase For Safety Of Empire Planned

LONDON, Feb. 8.—A complete British re-armament plan necessitating the expenditure of $7,500,000,000 during the next three years is being formulated here, it was learned authoritatively today.

The reason for such a huge outlay, which will be financed through a defense loan, will be explained fully during the present session of Parliament and will be the cause for much plain speaking on the present international situation.

Uncertainty of safety, it is understood, is the governing factor in the situation. The government is determined to extricate the country and the empire from a position where they will be open to attack by marauding nations with colonial ambitions and also to strengthen her forces so that she can speak effectively and ask simply as a member of the group of nations who believe in collective security.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—UP—Leland W. Cutler, president of the San Francisco Bay Exposition, today announced that reclamation of Yerba Buena Shoals, site of the exposition, would begin early next week.

Two war department dredges will be put to work Tuesday, Cutler said, following information from Washington that the WPA formally has transferred to the War Department the first installment of $3,043,120 for the reclamation project.

The money represents 80 per cent of the cost of reclaiming the fair site, and includes construction of a four-mile sea wall and an 13,000,000 cubic foot sand fill.

Army dredges are being put on the job immediately to avoid delay. On February 13 the army will call for bids from private dredging contractors who will perform the bulk of the work of reclaiming the site. Brief ceremonies are planned to mark the beginning of the work Tuesday. Subsequently, a formal ground-breaking ceremony will be held.

Blizzard Is Raging In The Mid-West

Thirty-five below zero was Saturday's forecast for Iowa, where hundreds of families in an area of 500 soft coal mines lacked even one lump of coal.

Trains ran two to ten hours late or stopped at nearest stations to wait out the worst blizzard in some sections since 1886. Allegheny was grounded and bus, truck and automobile traffic was halted.

Weather forecasters said the storm slowly was moving toward the Atlantic seaboard. The western plains, where temperatures from 20 to 38 degrees below zero were reported tonight were expected to feel mild relief Sunday as the cold area moved eastward.

GOOD WEATHER HERE
On the Pacific coast, prospects for the next 48 hours are generally for rising temperatures, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau in San Francisco.

Observers said the current disturbance over the Pacific ocean will advance eastward during the week-end, accompanied by increasing cloudiness Sunday and Monday.

Rains are anticipated Sunday and Monday in Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Snow is probable in Northern California sometime Monday or Tuesday.

"Daylight" Is To Speed Up Time On S.F.-L. A. Run

The fastest rail time ever regularly scheduled between San Francisco and Los Angeles will be made by Southern Pacific's "Daylight Limited" beginning February 16, it was announced today.

Cutting one hour and 45 minutes from its present time, the Daylight will complete the run between the two cities in exactly 11 hours, according to announcement by Felix S. McGinnis, vice-president in charge of passenger traffic.

On its new schedule, the Daylight will leave San Francisco and Los Angeles at 8 a. m. as at present, and arrive in those cities at 7 p. m. instead of 8:45 p. m. it was stated. Only six stops are scheduled between San Francisco and Los Angeles. They are San Jose, Watsonville Junction, Salinas, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Glendale.

The present intermediate service performed by the Daylight will be taken over by a new train, designated No. 71 and 72. This train will leave San Francisco at 7:45 a. m. and arrive in Los Angeles at 9:15 p. m. Northbound. It will depart at 8:05 a. m. and reach San Francisco at 9:30 p. m.

Establishment of the new train will furnish employment for 30 additional trainmen.

All cars carried by the Daylight are to be air-conditioned before the start of the summer season, it was announced.

EL CERRITO COUPLE MARRIED AT RENO

A wedding of much interest to El Cerritos took place Thursday at Reno, Nevada, when Jack Robert Pryde and Miss Mary Williams of Glendon Hills, Illinois were united in marriage.

This romance had its inception when Miss Williams came west last year to visit her cousins in Oakland. Jack was introduced to the young lady by a friend and forthwith lost his heart. Miss Williams returned to her eastern home just before Christmas. This week Jack met her in Reno where she became his bride.

The happy couple returned to the parental Pryde home on Carmel street yesterday. They plan to make their home in El Cerrito where they will occupy one of the new apartments now being built by Fred Crist on Kearney street as part of the Kearmont apartments.

GRONEMAN IS TO SURRENDER ON INDICTMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—UP.—Walter McGovern, attorney for Hajimay Groneman, drugless "healer" who married Ella May Clemmons on her deathbed, said today his client would surrender Monday on a manslaughter indictment.

The grand jury made the accusation after hearing testimony that Groneman had not called medical aid for his wife, former "Christ Angel of Chinatown," until 48 hours before her death from jaundice and coma.

In his defense, he said he felt competent to attend the aged woman, whose marriage to a pig-tailed Chinese 20 years ago and whose fantastic life in Chinatown as a teacher and curio shop dealer made her a public figure.

Groneman has claimed her estate, estimated variously at $10,000 to $55,000 and left her by Mrs. Katherine Gould, her sister and a daughter-in-law of Jay Gould of New York.

The indictment voted by the jurors delayed Groneman's marriage to blonde Sophie Charlotte Emberg, who as a "nurse" although she never had any nursing training, was with Miss Clemmons in her final illness and was in the bedroom the night Groneman married the Chinatown angel in a common-law ceremony "because she wanted it that way," Miss Emberg said they would be married as soon as the manslaughter case was settled.

Announcement of the engagement of the two principals in the case disconcerted authorities, who pointed out that as Groneman's wife the "nurse" would not be able to testify as a state witness.

ALL-AMERICA PEACE PLAN IN THE MAKING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—UP.—President Roosevelt was understood today to be preparing to invite to all American Republics to confer on organization of machinery for the Western Hemisphere.

It was learned that the invitation are to be issued through the U. S. States Embassies and Legations to all American Republics to a conference of American States.

Indications were that the invitation might be ready within short time as diplomatic representatives of the Latin American states have been advised by the State Department that the invitation is planning when the State Department would not comment on the plan.

The necessity for reorganizing peace machinery of the Hemisphere was believed to have been brought home to statesmen after the new world diplomacy to the Gran Chaco war between Bolivia and Paraguay, which cost a huge toll of lives.

But until the present, it was understood, events had made it impossible to call a conference for coordinating peace machinery, cause of the stalemate between the United States and Mexico.

Acceptance of the Buenos Aires settlement is expected to open way for the conference plan, President Roosevelt.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Undercover information has been received by the Justice Department's Bureau of Investigation that a nationwide hunger march is being organized secretly in order to descend on the capital simultaneously with congressional consideration of the relief appropriation. The legislation is scheduled for discussion in April.

Among the things found by henchmen of the late Huey Long when his private files were examined was a batch of undated resignations from every Louisiana state official of any consequence. Speaker Joe Byrns takes no chances of either offending newsmen or revealing congressional secrets. Asked by a reporter if there were 215 signatures on the petition to force a vote on the Frazier-Lenke farm mortgage refinancing bill, he replied: "That's correct. But remember, you guessed it, I didn't tell you."

Although members received a $25-a-day allowance, the recent Miami meeting of the Executive Council of the A. F. of L. was not a financial success for some of them. Reason: Poor guesswork at the race track. Several of the labor chiefs lost so heavily they had to wire home for more expensive money.

Women visitors in the Senate gallery are not allowed to knit. The House is more lenient. Knitting is permitted, but it must be done unobtrusively.

ABORTIVE PLAN
 Rifeul secrets are being voiced privately in Republican quarters over the blow-up of an ingenious publicity campaign that would have cost the party a cent. The plan was for three corporations, host to the New Deal, to devote a portion of their advertising appropriation to political ads. Attractive sample copies were prepared and everything seemed set for the scheme to go through, when legal advisers pointed out that pro-administration stockholders might file suit to enjoin the expenditure of money in this manner. The scheme was dropped.

Recently invited to telecast live rehearsals with the President are wondering what it is all about. The President has brought up no particular subject, merely talked in generalities about a wide range of topics. On a table behind Secretary Henry Wallace recently were the following three books: "Twilight of the Gods," "The Last Days of Pompeii," and "The Last Days of the Republic."

DIVERSITY IS FEATURE OF NEW FOX BILL

Those Eastbay screen devotees who have seen Bette Davis and Paul Muni and Leslie Howard, and Franchot Tone with Joan Crawford, and Jean Harlow, have a treat in store for them at the Fox theater today when these fascinating stars will be seen together for the first time in "Dangerous."

It is not often that a major film is supplemented by another outstanding attraction. Such happens to be the case, however, with "Paddy O'Day," the companion feature on the incoming program. According to advance reports, both pictures are fairly bursting with every quality demanded by screen fans in great entertainment.

Margaret Lindsay, Allison Skipworth, John Eldridge and Dick Foran support Miss Davis and Tone in their first co-starring vehicle. The screen play is about "Joyce," a fascinating actress who brings disaster to her many men admirers. The sweep and power of the picture have brought a tremendous emotional reaction to those who have witnessed it.

"Paddy O'Day" stars Jane Withers, Pinky Tomlin, Rita Cansino and George Givoll. It is the story of a lonely little orphan from Erin who steals through America's gates to encounter gay adventures in mad Manhattan. In no time, she enters society, brings romance into two lives, and crashes Broadway with her talented entertaining.

NEW YORK INSIDE OUT By DON O'MALLEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The last stand of old New York—Washington Square North—is being threatened with the wrecker's ax.

Facing Washington Square Park, the century-old row of red brick buildings at the foot of Fifth Avenue has been a picturesque survivor of life in the big town before the skyscrapers pushed their towering noses into the scene. Back in 1837, when lower Broadway was the fashionable section of New York, a group of wealthy residents leased the property from Salvo's Snug Harbor, and built the houses as they now stand.

Here John Wanamaker, Robert Livingston, Charles W. Gould, Robert de Forest and other prominent New York families entertained with Victorian calm and dignity. Several generations of each family have been born and reared in the same house. For years, every ambitious New Yorker has dreamed of owning one of the quaint landmarks.

Increased taxes, however, are undermining the row. Only last week the auctioneer's flag fluttered outside the De Forest home at Number Seven, Frederick Deland Weeks Room of the Hotel St. Regis they've got a pair of duellists, Aldo Nadi and George Santelli. The two boys go at each other with clashing foil—all while you're slipping an old-fashioned necktie. They'll be reviving cock fights, next. Speaking of the old arts, a statistically-minded friend queries, what ever has happened to the man who used to make his own radio set? . . . My guess is that he's punctured his ear.

Progress, you know.

IMPROMPTU—There's a new wrinkle in night spot novelties. Over in the fashionable King Cole Room of the Hotel St. Regis they've got a pair of duellists, Aldo Nadi and George Santelli. The two boys go at each other with clashing foil—all while you're slipping an old-fashioned necktie. They'll be reviving cock fights, next. Speaking of the old arts, a statistically-minded friend queries, what ever has happened to the man who used to make his own radio set? . . . My guess is that he's punctured his ear.

One Christmas Eve
 by Ruth Louise Ayers

Christmas Eve finds the residents of Houseboat Row, squalid river colony, preparing for the holiday in varied ways. In one boat, Tom and Ann Hannigan watch tearfully over their little Peter, ill with pneumonia. Next door, Big Adam, evangelist, holds services in his floating chapel. Little knowing that his son Dan, lured by two crooks, has got himself into serious trouble that evening and is now seeking shelter at Luke Conners' houseboat bar down the river. Luke's daughter, Nightingale, is feeling a visit from the wealthy Vincent Rocks, whom she loves, urges her father to turn Dan out.

CHAPTER XV
 "YOU almost had me believing," Nightingale continued, "that Vincent Rocks wouldn't bother with me any more when his own people and his own kind were around him. You thought he came to see me—well, sort of to fill in the long times when he was alone. But he's not alone tonight—and he wants to see me!"

"Oh, Dad, it's so important to me to have everything just right. I don't care about the bar. That's well. It's sort of a part of us, and Vincent knows that. But we aren't in business to shield gun-crazy kids. Particularly a fellow whose father would like to see you wiped off the face of the earth. I want Vincent to come here tonight—but I can't have him here with cops barging in and making us all look like criminals."

Luke Conners looked troubled. "I guess you're right," he said at last. The smile on Nightingale's face was uncertain. "You do see now, don't you, that you can't let Dan Adam stay?" she faltered. He nodded. "I'll get him out."

"I'll go with you. I'd like a look at him. I never thought I'd see Big Adam's son begging for your help!"

AS THEY walked down the narrow hallway, the sound of "You'd better go back to your room" Luke said uneasily. "No need of dragging you into this," Nightingale scoffed. "Cry baby that he is! I want to see him."

She stepped ahead of her father quickly opened the door to the little back room. But she stopped in the doorway. Huddled in a corner of the room his hands covering his face, was the tall figure of Big Adam's boy. Sobs racked him from the top of his head to the soles of his shoes. Water dripped—dripped and made shallow, gleaming pools on the floor. The girl swayed in the doorway as she felt her father's hand on her shoulder.

"Please," he said. "Leave me alone."

"I'll be back," he promised.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

The Story of a Great-Hearted Girl Whose Kindness Brought Only Grief

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

LAST December I wrote an article advising people to purchase the Little Christmas seals put out by the National Tuberculosis Society. We repeat constantly that consumption is a contagious disease, that the only way it can be prevented is by early diagnosis of each case, isolation or quarantine with rest, sunshine, and nourishing

The money derived from the sale of these seals is used to provide visiting nurses to see personally a victim of this disease, advise the family as to the care of the patient, and how to prevent the disease from spreading to other members of the family and those working with them. Also to provide equipment such as X-Ray and employ physicians to make an early diagnosis. It also goes to help sanitariums, where these patients can be isolated and cared for by experts and cured before the disease gets beyond control. A penny is a small price to pay to help some poor sick individual. If every person in the United States bought only one seal it would provide funds to help save many lives, and if all who could afford it would buy one hundred seals for one dollar ($1.00) tuberculosis would in a few years cease to be a public menace.

Wait Too Long

A very marked case in point is cited in a letter from a mother in California who read my column and asks for my advice. She becomes alarmed only after the symptoms have become marked and the case well advanced. Too often we pay little attention to the early symptoms. We lose much valuable time and make the relief far more difficult.

This woman writes that about eight years ago her daughter was a jolly, fleshy, happy girl; the joy of everyone. Then her story becomes sad, and because of the results, and because it all could have been prevented if proper care had been taken.

The daughter had a young girl friend who was a victim of tuberculosis and in poor circumstances. Out of the kindness of her heart she took her friend into her own home and nursed and cared for her till a place could be found in a sanitarium.

I should rather take a case of smallpox into my home than an advanced case of tuberculosis, because I know I can protect my family from smallpox, but am not so sure about tuberculosis.

After the friend had entered the sanitarium and was about to die the daughter went to her and her friend died in her arms. A lovely deed which speaks for her kindness of heart, but little for her judgment.

Has Severe Cough

Ever since this daughter has had a severe cough and profuse expectoration, has become very weak and thin. She has great ambition, but no strength. The mother states the change in her daughter's appearance is shocking.

She coughs constantly and with complete exhaustion, has no appetite and is now suffering severely from pains in her stomach which is so tender she can scarcely bear the weight of her clothes. She becomes very short of breath on the slightest exertion.

If I had written many columns on the subject I could not have thought up a more perfect illustration for the contention that early discovery, isolation and care are necessary to cure the patient and protect the family and friends.

Had each of us done his share to help the National Tuberculosis Society this woman's friend would have been in a bright, cheerful sanitarium before her disease became incurable. This lady's daughter would not have been exposed to and contracted the disease.

She only tells of her daughter's condition. She does not state how many other persons were exposed to the disease from this friend, nor how many persons her daughter has started on the downward road among her family, friends, and all with whom she comes in contact.

TAKE CARE! Tuberculosis is preventable, and is curable in the early stages.

Short Cuts

To be different, try serving small pretzels with salads and soups in place of crackers or bread.

A scoop is a handy kitchen device, particularly if there is a child in the family who does not happen to like spinach or potatoes or mashed turnips. Just let him scoop a pound of the disliked vegetable onto his own plate and see what a world of difference it will make to his appetite when he can dish it out for himself so attractively.

Stretch keeps aprons and house dresses fresh-looking longer.

Profiles For Today

Glenn Frank Looms As Dark Horse

By TALBOT LAKE

OUT of the political hinterland comes the figure of another college professor, Glenn Frank Looms, president of the University of Wisconsin. Not long ago he made the keynote speech of a meeting at Chicago's Union League Club in which he exhorted the present administration and the "hybrid" system of government. The G.O.P. has been looking him over for some time, and the speech has made him a figure worth further consideration as the keynoter at the convention, and possibly as a presidential dark horse.

As sectional lines sharpen—the industrial East against the rural South and West—there is much talk here of Mr. Frank as a possible liaison, a bilingual candidate who can talk to either farmers or industrialists in their own language. Farly strategists are aware of elements of political expediency raised by this regional consideration, as attested the build-up of Senator Vandenberg as a political colossus bestirring the Alleghenies. Of Missouri, crossroads back-ground, Mr. Frank, as editor of the Century Magazine, as a writer and lecturer, became a highly urbanized citizen. As president of the University of Wisconsin, he had some little trouble in catching the prevailing overtones of the hinterland, but he did it, with marvelous adaptiveness.

He seems oddly placed in politics. A year ago there was a definite movement among powerful party leaders in New York to make him the Republican candidate. Missings about Mr. Frank's academic background, at a time when professors were under a hot persecution, were supposed to have ended this enterprise.

The interesting new flash regarding Glenn Frank is that while he is officially "retired," the railroads are putting in overtime, talking about his rating and prospects.

Skin 'Perfume' Necessary for Sun Holiday

By JACQUELINE HUNT

STAYING immaculate is the most important thing you can do to make yourself attractive to others and to insure the success of mid-season holiday.

Especially if you spend your vacation where the weather is warm and sunny you will want to take along a supply of eau de Cologne in your favorite fragrances and a large sized bottle of skin freshener.

There is one preparation called "skin perfume" that can be used both as a cooling body rub after bathing and as a skin tonic to cleanse and refine the pores. This comes in three fragrances—lilas, gardenia and violet. There is also a milky skin lotion containing lanoline which is grand for softening the skin after exposure on the beach.

Do not overlook a good dusting powder and one of the powder deodorants so delightful to use and so essential to all the daintiness and a sense of well-being.

If you carry along a beauty kit take one large enough and equipped with all of the things you will need on the trip, including preparations for the hands and hair, as well as complexion and make-up aids. In any case, take along a good hair brush, brilliantine, and a fragrant lotion to be used for setting your waves.

Before you start on a holiday trip, have your hairdresser plan a simple culture, trim your hair and give you a new permanent if you need it. Simpler arrangements are not only fashionable at the moment, but they are practical if you must set your own waves and curls after a turn around the deck or a dip into the pool.

Eye preparations are also necessities for travelers. Tuck a bottle of eye lotion or a small can of bottle acid into your bags and bathe your eyes before retiring at night, and after exposure to sun, wind, or dust.

There is a cream called "eyelash grower" that you will want to take along, since it serves so many purposes. Use a tiny brush to apply to your lashes and eyebrows. They become dark and glossy, since the cream is dark brown in color. Just a speck blended along the roots of the upper lashes sends the eyes to eye shadow and all the time it is encouraging your eyelashes to become thicker and more luxurious.

Massage a special eye cream or a good lubricating cream into the delicate tissues around the eyes to keep them smooth and youthful. Do not forget sun glasses, for you really need them on the beach.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "I have heard that almond meal can be used for cleansing, softening, and bleaching the skin. Will you please tell me how it is used? I would like to use it in my bath, since the skin on my body is dry and flakes off."

ANSWER: You can make yourself some little bath bags filled with equal parts of almond meal, oatmeal and castile soap give you a perfect wash, add a handful of dried rose petals or lavender for a pleasing odor. Soak one of these in warm water for a few minutes, then scrub gently over your entire body. You will get a thick, rich lather that is soothing to your skin, as well as cleansing. If you will use old Turkish toweling for the bath bags you will find it just rough enough to bring up the circulation and leave your skin glowing.

The film star, Lili Damita, realizes the importance of eyes that are sparkling and beautiful, and she has her own trick for keeping them at their best at all times. Her system is so simple every girl should try it.

Just keep a bottle of rose water in the refrigerator. When you get up in the morning pour a little into a bowl, soak little pads of cotton in the cold lotion, then lie down and press the pads over your eyes. Relax for about 10 minutes. Repeat this procedure when you come home from your office or shopping tour in the evening. You will feel refreshed immediately.

Rosemary Andree, the girl who won the $50,000 English prize for being physically perfect, insists that diet alone, or dancing or walking cannot give you a perfect body. This petite dancer is slightly less than 5 feet, 2 inches in height, weighs only 94 pounds and measures 22 inches around the waist, 21 around the hips and 32 inches around the bust. She eats what she likes, whenever she wants, but she keeps her figure firm and shapely by spending two 15 minute periods daily at scientific exercises in addition to her dancing.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "May a teaspoon be used for tasting tea or coffee to see whether it is sweet enough or not too hot?"

ANSWER: Tea and coffee are beverages, hence they are not "eaten" with a spoon, but drunk from the side of a cup. The practice of tasting tea or coffee with a teaspoon first, belongs in the nursery along with blowing on the spoon when food is hot. Grown persons are supposed to know how many sugar cubes or spoonfuls of sugar will sweeten a beverage to their taste. And so long as they do not start off with a gulp, there is no danger of burning the mouth.

QUESTION: "Please let me know through the Modes and Manners column, the correct way for answering a business 'phone.' I work in the office of a wholesale grocer. It is my first job."

ANSWER: You can dispense with "hello." Just lift the receiver off the hook, and say: "the name of the firm into the 'phone.' It is a time-saver. The party calling knows at once whether he has the right number and may state his business at once.

Bright Accessories Give Lift to Faded Wardrobe

By IRENE VAIL

New York—At the mid-season the wardrobe needs a pick-me-up. It usually begins about now to look faded and faded. There is nothing like a bright accessory to give a tired frock a lift.

Because scarfs are so much the vogue, and because neckwear has been voted fashionable, the first thought is for these things. Counters are gay with colored scarfs, square oblongs, and a triangle or bold scarf variety. They do won't look for a drab dress and, since there is no thought of scarfs going out with the winter season, money invested in them is not wasted.

A dress which may be worn alternately with lingerie and colorful skirt is the sort women now like. If you have been window-shopping and mulling over the idea of what you'd like come spring, you have not, I am sure, overlooked those saucy looking bow costumes with the opportunities they afford for a change of front. And of girldie. Of course, the Spanish note is being stressed by those who just can't take to the Chinese.

Brown, coral, and gold are color accents in window displays of Chinese-inspired fashions. Bamboo is another tone commented on as good for the new season. I tell you this without loss of time for the impression might have been that gray was the one and only color New York shop windows exploit. There are others, although you are not entirely wrong in supposing that gray leads them all.

That is, among solid colors, for New York has gone in feverishly for prints, having its annual attack several months ahead of time.

It is definitely the thing to wear a bright print under a winter coat. The brighter the print the better, although if you look intently enough you will discover that whatever background is visible is black.

With women rushing into print on such short notice and with such enthusiasm, one wonders what their reaction to all these splashes of color will be when spring is finally at hand. We have been more or less educated to the idea that prints were a warm weather proposition. Now, having accepted them for zero weather, where do we go from here?

REMEMBER "OLD FAITHFUL"

There are lots of delicious fancy dishes to offer your family and they undoubtedly appreciate them, but if there's a rush, or if the appetites are jaded, nothing is more acceptable than a good fluffy omelet, plain or with filling. Be sure to beat the yolks and whites separately.

Valentine Day Party Brings Old Favorites

By JUDITH WILSON

FOR St. Valentine's Day let us be gay! Valentines of paper lace and tender sentiments are no longer fashionable, but this is Leap Year, so I suggest this is an ideal time for the younger set to forget its sophistication and borrow some old-fashioned ideas for February parties.

Carry out the decorative scheme in soft pastel shades. Pink and green is a combination neither startling nor new, but it can be very lovely. Perhaps you can find some little china figurines with cups for nuts or candy kisses in soft colors.

You can use tiny valentines with charming verses as place cards. Bake your cake in a heart-shaped pan and decorate it to represent a large valentine; let it serve as the centerpiece of your table. Ice cream is the ideal dessert for any party, so choose strawberry or pistachio to further the color scheme and have it molded into flower or heart shapes.

Even the most modern young things will love your party.

Valentine Cake

Make a good white cake by creaming 1 cup butter or white vegetable shortening and gradually adding 2 cups fine granulated sugar. Sift 3½ cups pastry flour with ¼ teaspoon salt and 3 teaspoons baking powder. Sift the flour before measuring, then add the salt and baking powder and sift 3 times. Add the flour alternately with 1 cup milk to the creamed mixture. Beat well after each addition. Flavor with 1 teaspoon vanilla and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of 8 eggs. Grease and line a heart-shaped cake pan with paper. Bake in a slow oven until a toothpick inserted in the cake comes out clean and light pressure shows that the cake is "springy." When cool spread with a soft butter frosting or boiled frosting that has been tinted a pale green and decorate with simple designs with tinted ornamental frosting put through pastry tubes.

Ornamental Frosting
Boil together 1 cup sugar and ½ cup water and boil for 3 minutes without stirring. Add ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar. Have the whites of 2 eggs beaten until stiff, but not dry. Add a teaspoon of the boiling syrup to the egg whites, beating all the while, then add another and another. By the time the syrup in the saucepan has cooked until it will spin a long thread when dropped from a spoon add all of it to the egg whites gradually, beating constantly. Beat until the mixture is very thick, then place the bowl over hot water and continue stirring with a spatula until the frosting will hold its shape. If you want more than one color divide the mixture and tint. Continue folding the frosting until it is cool, then put into the pastry tube and get to work! Decorating cakes isn't exactly easy, but it is fun on special occasions.

Ice Cream Roll

Beat 4 eggs until light, adding 1 cup fine sugar gradually and continue to beat until thick and smooth. Sift 1 cup cake flour before measuring, then sift with ¼ teaspoon baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt and fold into the egg mixture. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and turn into a jelly roll pan lined with greased paper. Bake in a hot oven 15 minutes. Turn out on a damp cloth sprinkled with powdered sugar, trim off the crisp edges, roll in a clean cheesecloth and allow to cool. When ready to serve, unroll the cake and spread with 1 quart strawberry ice cream.

MODERN WOMEN

A Woman With No Business Experience Becomes an Ace Executive

By MARIAN MATS MARTIN

"BUT I have had positively no experience; how could I hold a job like that?" How often that remark has been made. And there's not much truth in it.

This is a success story of a woman who wasn't afraid to tackle a job, and a great big job, too, with no experience other than spending money—even as you and I. It's a story of a woman who was able to see the other side of the picture and translate her experience as a customer into a good formula by which a customer as she was becomes satisfied because she knows what it takes.

I imagine enough to put oneself in the other fellow's place is one of the big factors in the success story of the only woman who heads a New York specialty shop. Mrs. H. M. Odium is president of Bonwit-Teller & Co.

Just two short years ago this charming woman was drifting in and out of this and other shops with seemingly not a thought in her well-coiffed head other

Rock Pile To Greet Evaders Of Blockade

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8—UP—An old fashioned rock pile was established here today as an added menace to harassed hobos and tramps who manage to evade the "Foreign Legion" of the Los Angeles police department.

GETTING SCARCE

Chief of Police Davis said his "Foreign Legion" reported from the Oregon line to the Mexican border that hobos are becoming hard to find. The winter influx to California practically has stopped since the patrols were stationed last Monday.

It is for the benefit of the few tramps who sneak through the lines that the rock pile will be established on Monday, Davis said. He ironically referred to his new idea as "part of a rehabilitation program."

OPPOSITION CONTINUES

Opposition to the "Foreign Legion" continued in the face of Davis' determination to carry on. Arizona and Nevada actively oppose the barrier. Opinion was divided throughout the state and in Los Angeles.

BARRED IN LASSEN

SUSANVILLE, Cal., Feb. 8—UP—Sheriff Olin S. Johnson of Lassen county today refused to deputize seven Los Angeles policemen seeking to establish a transient blockade on the highway and the Western Pacific railroad near Doyle, in Lassen county.

Sheriff Johnson announced he believed a higher governmental unit than the City of Los Angeles or the county should start the blockade.

extradition, demanded that she be permitted to remain silent on return to Martinez and that press interviews not be granted.

The return of Mrs. McCord is expected to bring into bold relief again numerous charges made against the woman's administration of the social service department.

TAKES WALKOUT POWDER

Mrs. McCord disappeared from Martinez on the night she was indicted by the grand jury, it being determined the following day she boarded a train at the Martinez station at 10:44 p.m., buying a ticket for Sacramento. At Sacramento she purchased a ticket for Reno. Officers went to Reno but were unable to trace her from there.

STERILIZATION PROBE

"It has been a long and a discouraging search but diligence of the sheriff was rewarded," Aljets said in announcing the arrest.

During the investigation of hospital sterilization cases, in which several members of the last grand jury were active, records were submitted purporting to show that 112 persons were sterilized at the county hospital. Individuals made charges that Mrs. McCord had virtually insisted upon sterilization as a requisite to receiving county relief but these charges were denied and Mrs. McCord, due to her disappearance, never submitted a defending statement.

JEWELS INVOLVED

The indictment involving the charge of misappropriation of $69.98 stirred the most controversy and interest and involved a claim for transportation for Mrs. Ida Jackson, 84, of Richmond, to Moffatt, Colo. It was claimed she did not receive the transportation.

Figuring also in the inquiry were charges that Mrs. McCord negotiated loans of money on Mrs. Jackson's jewels. George Lee, a Richmond broker, testified before the grand jury Mrs. McCord asked him and he acceded to a request to loan $440 on jewels represented as worth $1500 to $2000. He said he was three weeks in gaining return of his money. Subsequently, the jewels were pawned with an Oakland concern. The aged woman returned to Richmond from Colorado and was included among a great number of witnesses who testified before the grand jury.

SUBMITTED RESIGNATION

The grand jury investigation of activities of the social service bureau resulted in a meeting with the board of supervisors. The supervisors suspended Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Iona Booth of Richmond, an assistant, and subsequently Mrs. McCord submitted her resignation.

Mrs. Booth has endeavored unsuccessfully since to gain reinstatement. It was said she was a principal witness in the $63.98 claim.

WORKED IN L. A.

After resigning Mrs. McCord went to Los Angeles and gained employment with a relief agency. Before her disappearance she charged she had lost one job. She gained another, only to be subpoenaed for appearance before the grand jury on March 8.

While the jurors were deliberating upon an indictment, Mrs. McCord bade acquaintances in the Hall of Records good night, walked to the Southern Pacific station and

Today's Safe Driving Hint

By National Safety Council

Approaching intersections. Do not approach an intersection at high speed and depend upon your brakes for a sudden stop. This is not only hard on your tires and brakes, but is also very often the cause of a rear-end collision with the driver behind you.

Unless you can see perfectly in all directions, approach intersections slowly. When you are sure the way is clear, and not until then, accelerate your speed. This practice will insure your having control over your car when you need it most.

VAN VLACK IS CONVICTED OF WIFE MURDER

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Feb. 8—UP—Douglas Van Vlack, 32, convicted murderer of Mildred Hook, 22, his ex-wife, faced death by hanging tonight as penalty for "murder and rape" last November, leaving three dead in his wake across a high plateau of western Idaho.

VERDICT MEANS HANGING

A jury in district court returned a verdict late today convicting the bushy-haired Tacoman of shooting and killing Miss Hook as she lay in a culvert where they hid after Van Vlack shot and killed State Traffic Officer Fontaine Cooper and fatally wounded Henry C. Given, deputy sheriff.

Conviction came on the eve of three weeks of trial—a record breaking period for Twin Falls county. It would have extended into next week but for the fact that Judge A. B. Barclay ordered one four-hour night session.

The jury deliberated 22 hours and 10 minutes.

Judge Barclay announced after hearing the verdict of first degree murder that sentence—which means setting of the execution date—would be passed February 11.

COMFORTS MOTHER

When the verdict imposing capital punishment—something rare in Idaho—was read in a crowded and hushed courtroom, Van Vlack's main thought seemed to be for his mother, Mrs. Carl Van Vlack of Tacoma, a crying woman who stoutly defended her "insane boy" throughout the trial.

Leo Teate, defense counsel, turned to Van Vlack as the verdict was read and said:

"They haven't a noose around your neck yet, son."

"No," Mrs. Van Vlack exclaimed "and they won't so long as his mother is alive."

With that she fell against the cold Van Vlack, seized his hand and covered it with kisses.

Above the din of the crowded courtroom, the defendant's voice arose:

"Don't worry, mother. I'll be all right."

Both charges in the second indictment: alleged violation of section 424 of the penal code.
